DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Since the applicants submitted all new claims, it is unclear why the applicants did not put them in true numerical order. The claims that depend from claim 16 should directly follow that claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. Claims 16-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miharu et al. (5,912,070).

3. Miharu et al. teach tearable films comprising: A/B/C, a surface layer containing a cycloolefin (C), an adhesive layer (B), and a polyester layer (A). Various film structures are suggested, (column 17, lines 53+). Layer (C) contains additional polyolefin polymers in amounts of 0.5 to 40% (column 14, lines 25-56).

The film can be laminated to itself, to form various multilayer structures. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have laminated the polyester layers together with an adhesive to yield a structure having two surface layers comprising cycloolefin blends. There does not appear to be any criticality to the order of the layers in the formed laminate.

Regarding the relative amounts of polymers in the interior and surface layers, layer (C) can contain various amounts of additives.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
